Commodexia™

Executive Summary

Commodexia™ is the AI-driven platform for physical commodity deals. Vetted buyers, sellers, mandates, and intermediaries are connected through an intelligence layer purpose-built for physical commodity transactions — replacing email chains, broker chat groups, and unverifiable documents with structured, auditable deal flow.

Category & Positioning

Category: Physical Commodities Intelligence

Market Opportunity

Global physical commodities trade is enormous, fragmented, and still runs largely on relationships and untrusted documents. The addressable surface includes metals, energy, agriculture, and industrial inputs where deal verification, KYC, and document integrity are persistent pain points.

Customer Profile

Verified buyers, sellers, mandates, intermediaries, and financial counterparties active in physical commodity trade.

Revenue Model

- Transaction take-rate on verified, completed deals.
- Subscription tiers for verified counterparties and intermediaries.
- Premium intelligence, document verification, and KYC services.

Competitive Advantage

- Live, vetted network of participants — the hardest moat in physical commodities.
- AI-native deal intelligence that gets sharper with every verified transaction.
- Compliance and document integrity built in, not bolted on.

Development Status

Available Now — live at commodexia.com with active deal flow.

Roadmap

- Expand verified counterparty coverage across commodity categories.
- Deepen integrations with financial and compliance counterparties.
- Launch institutional-grade intelligence and analytics tier.

Place in the Ai Tech Intel Ecosystem

Every Ai Tech Intel platform is built to operate on shared infrastructure and to compound the value of the broader portfolio. AiC3™ is the foundational orchestration layer; Commodexia™, T.E.A.M.S.™, TeaVib™, PCN™, and Academy™ are independent revenue lines that benefit from — and reinforce — that foundation.
